

FAMU ANNOUNCES THE 2024 INAUGURAL COHORT TRELLIS FUND FELLOWS

Graduate students from five 1890 Land Grant Universities have been selected for the first cohort of the Feed the Future Innovation Lab for Horticulture-funded Trellis Fund Fellowship Program (TFFP) led by Florida A&M University's Office of International Agriculture. This 2024 cohort of Trellis Fund Fellows will be engaged in the Horticulture Innovation Lab's locally-led research projects based in East and West Africa, Central America, and South Asia.

Joshua Asiamah, MS Student
Molecular & Cell Biology - LU

Beatrice Obungu, MS Student
Entomology - FAMU

Peter Owolabi, MS Student Sustainable Agri - LU

Josephine Nyame, MS Student
Agri & Resource Econ - TU

Erasmus Aduteye, PhD Student
Food & Agri Sciences - UMES

Kiara L. Ivy, MS Student
Entomology - FAMU

Jacob B. Annan, PhD Student
Urban For, Env & Nat Sci - SU

Tseگانesh Sete, MS Student
Food and Agri Sci - UMES

William Larbi, MS Student
Sustainable Agriculture - LU

